

Springs Youth in Heroic Salton Sea Rescue

Waves Swallow Teenager After Saving Buddy

Lost today in the Salton Sea is the body of Sam W. Alexander, 17, of 335 N. Calle Encilia, Palm Springs, who disappeared following his valiant assist in saving the life of nine-year-old Eddie J. Walton of 210 Gila Road, Palm Springs.

The courageous teenager, believed to be drowned, has not been seen since his uncle, Bernard Berry, saw him go under about 150 yards from the Whitewater storm drain.

Under the conditions that exist in the Salton Sea at this time of year it could be two or three days before the body would come to the top, stated Lt. Harley Margrove of the sheriff's office. There is always the possibility, however, because of the known debris at the bottom of the Salton Sea, that the body could become snagged and require divers to locate.

There were five members in the party. The three older men were fishing and when Bernard Berry called to Eddie Walton to come in closer, he noticed that the boy was in trouble. Sam Alexander gave the boy an assist despite heavy resistance and then yielded to the treacherous currents of the sea after giving his last ounce of strength to save young Walton.

The younger boy was pulled aboard a rescue boat and treated by Sergeant Gil Flood and Deputy George Drowley. Artificial respiration was not called for as the youngster was mainly suffering from shock. The search for the victim's body is continuing.

Top Priority for Key Spa Route

Two key Highway 111 projects sought by the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce have been recommended for top priority action by the Riverside County Board of Trade.

The strong county board endorsement went to improvement of Highway 111 from Highway 99 to Windy Point, and construction of the road to conventional four lane boulevard standards from Indian Trail in Palm Springs to Indian

The action, taken after a detailed June hearing meeting of most major county communities and district state highway department representatives, actually indicates unofficial district level feasibility approval by the highway engineers, Francis F. Crocker, chairman of the Palm Springs highway committee explained.

Crocker, who reported the county group action to the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce board of directors, termed the action a major step toward state highway commission approval.

Two of Four

The Highway 111 projects were two of four Palm Springs recommendations included in the final county board of trade recommendations to the state Highway Commission. The Highway 111 projects are included in construction and rights of way allocations requested to "promote prompt construction." Designs for the routes are now complete, the board of trade said.

The other Palm Springs requests included in the county recommendations are parts of long-term planning projects. Included are widening of the Banning section of the Highway 99 freeway if the Cabazon portion is built six lanes, and action on a route for a Palm Springs freeway routing.

Recommended by civic groups and associations in the Palm Springs area is a right of way from San Rafael Drive skirting the north and east Ranch Club subdivisions, east of the Palm Springs Airport to a point near the northwest corner of Section 28. The state engineer's officers have reviewed "three or four" proposed freeway routes in this area, but have rejected all proposals, Crocker said.

State Student Cost at $455

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California school districts last year spent an average of $455 to educate each of their elementary, high school and junior college students.

State Controller Alan Cranston said Thursday that this amounted to a total of $1.6 billion in public school expenditures for the fiscal year which ended June 30.

TRUCE TRY FAILS

Money Bill Stalemates Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hopes were dampened today for ending a five-month House-Senate dispute that has blocked enactment of a single money bill by Congress this year.

The rival appropriations committees of the House and Senate apparently failed to make any headway at a meeting aimed at reaching a truce in their dispute over procedure for handling joint conference sessions.

Other developments: Estes—Chairman John McClellan said testimony before his Senate Investigations Subcommittee demonstrated inadequacy of certain machinery within the Agriculture Department. He said failure of agriculture officials on Oklahoma to notify Texas officials about suspected irregularities in Billie Sol Estes' cotton allotments before they were approved.

showed there was "a breakdown in the whole procedure here."

Highways—Rep. William Cramer, R-Fla., accused Democratic colleagues on a House Highways Investigating Subcommittee of concentrating on West Virginia's former Republican administration in an inquiry into the state's road building practices. Acting subcommittee chairman Jim Wright, D-Texas, told Cramer he resented what he said were insinuations as to the integrity of the committee and its investigators. Wright denied any partisanship in the inquiry.

House Votes $4.6 Billion Foreign Aid Commitment

INSTANT ROOF for the new 22-bed wing of Desert Hospital is going on today, as Massey Sand and Rock workers pour concrete in place with a half-yard bucket. The $244,800 wing is slated for fall completion, with a bid call for the second expansion project in a planned $1.7

million expansion set for Monday. A fund campaign headed by William Perlberg and Milton Prell has gained the $650,000 in cash and pledges for expansion. The new bed wing will raise capacity to 86 patients. (Desert Sun Photo)

President Wins Authority to Help Communists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration congressional forces hope to win a major double victory on foreign aid for President Kennedy in a House-Senate Conference Committee.

The House passed the $4.6 billion foreign aid authorization measure by a roll-call vote of 250 to 164 late Thursday.

The bill would give the President the discretion he wants to continue aid to Yugoslavia and Poland when he considers it to be vital to national security. The Senate bill would limit him to sending only surplus food to the two Communist nations.

However, the House version also carries a provision to ban any U.S. purchase of United Nations bonds to help the world organization solve its financial crisis.

Kennedy asked Congress for authority to buy $100 million worth of the bonds and the Senate already has approved the request.

Administration backers now hope the two issues can be happily resolved in favor of the White House by the conference committee. It gets together next week to iron out differences in the House and Senate bills.

The House measure was far more satisfactory to the President than a recently passed Senate bill. As approved by the House, the program would be allowed $5.3 million more than the Senate approved in addition to the greater discretionary authority to aid Poland and Yugoslavia.

Administration lieutenants acknowledged that the actual money must still be voted by Congress later in a separate appropriation bill which will come up later.

Russia Could Jam the Telstar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia, if she wanted to, could jam communications via America's Telstar satellite.

But experts of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., which owns Telstar, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), which launched it, can't see any reason why anybody would want to go to the expense and trouble of interfering with the little satellite's business.

Russ Plan New Atom Test Series

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union served official notice today that it feels free to conduct another series of nuclear tests.

The warning came in an official Tass statement given out by the Foreign Ministry.

The statement recalled what it said were "hundreds of experimental blasts" in the West, and claimed each one serves to perfect existing weapons and create new ones.

"Under these conditions not only morals and right, but also the interests of general peace and security require that the Soviet Union should be the last to conduct nuclear tests," the statement said.

The statement came on the eve of the East-West disarmament talks scheduled to resume Monday in Geneva. And it followed a similarly firm-line reaffirmation of Soviet policy on Germany and Berlin in a Tass statement released Thursday.

The statement today charged that the U.S. government had been forced to enter negotiations on a nuclear test ban and had done everything to foil them by placing "absurd demands" on the Soviet Union.

The statement charged that the U.S. State Department was trying "to present things in such a light as if it were the Soviet Union and not the United States of America who had triggered off the nuclear testing race and its buildup."

Charles Kabaker Dies

Charles Kabaker, 82, a former shoe company executive who had lived in Palm Springs the last 14 years, died last night in a Los Angeles area hospital. Services have been scheduled for Monday at 2 p.m. at Hillside Memorial Park, Los Angeles.

Registration Of Voters On Move

Registration of voters moved ahead in Palm Springs with the announcement today of the setting up of registration facilities at 135 East Andreas, Democratic Club headquarters. The announcement was made by Stanley Spiegelman, general director of headquarters and prominent local hotel man.

Spiegelman stressed that the registration service would be available to members of all political parties, "Republican, Democratic or Prohibitionist."

Palm Springs Republicans plan also to open a downtown registration facility soon, Republican Assembly spokesmen said today.

Those to be registered must have resided in California for one year, in the county for 90 days and in their precinct for 54 days. Required to re-register are those who have changed address and those who failed to vote in the last general presidential election in 1960.

Closing date for registration for eligibility to vote in the coming November election is September 13.

Spiegelman issued a call for volunteers to man the downtown headquarters from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

and Russia have failed again in an effort to narrow their differences over Berlin.

JFK Gets Ribicoff's Resignation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today accepted Secretary of Health Education and Welfare Abraham Ribicoff's resignation with "deep regret" but hailed his decision to run for a Senate seat from Connecticut.

At the same time Associate White House press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said announcement of Ribicoff's successor was "imminent."

In an exchange of letters made public by the White House, Kennedy gave Ribicoff a glowing endorsement and praised his accomplishments in "blazing of trails in health, education and welfare."

Ribicoff, the first man appointed to the Kennedy cabinet and the first to leave, announced his resignation Thursday night in a state wide television broadcast from Hartford, Conn.

'Silent Vigil' Against Big Power Policy

MOSCOW (UPI) — A handful of Western ban-the-bomb advocates staged a "silent vigil" protest against big power nuclear policies in Red Square today, but had their banners yanked away from them by several Soviet women who opposed their demonstration.

The disarmament demonstrators called off plans to picket the American Embassy in the face of Soviet opposition. Instead, they marched into Red Square with three banners unfurled to protest nuclear tests by both East and West. Originally, 40 planned to demonstrate but only 20 showed up.

The demonstrators were followed by a group of Soviet women who took the banners away, rolled them up and stalked off. "They are undecorous," muttered one Soviet woman as she walked away.

The demonstrators, here for the Communist-sponsored World Congress for General Disarmament and Peace, silently watched the loss of their banners.

Gunhands at The Sun

Positioned along the entire east wall of the new Desert Sun newspaper offices is a display of seventy colorfully realistic six-gun experts. This line-up of rawboned characters represents the highly accomplished brush work of Joe De Yong, a frontiersman himself and one time student of possibly the greatest Western artist of all time, Charlie Russell.

The paintings, and the public is cordially invited to come and view them, were carefully studied representations of characters in stories and books being used in motion pictures. Following extensive research of costumes, settings, folklore and characteristics, De Yong would draw the detailed personalities for the use of costume designers, directors and actors.

De Yong's visual impersonations of marshals, badmen, cowhands and other characters of fiction and fact, were created for Dick Dickson, present manager of the Art Center, about 20 to 30 years ago. Dickson was for many years a protégé of the late Spiros Skouras and specialized in Westerns.

A stickler for detail, Dickson used De Yong to bring the hard-riding cowboy heroes to life. At an expense of more than $3,000 he had the paintings mounted and framed, including 40 Western etchings by Edward Borein recently displayed in the Desert Museum. Curator C. E. Smith reported that the Borein etchings were enthusiastically received during the showing.

The unveiling of these treasures of western art came about last August, when Dick Dickson was foraging through some Western lore which was stored away in the archives of the Art Center. While proudly showing a friend some of his beautifully hand tooled saddles, bridles and chaps which he had fashioned for himself, Dick who had been in the movies for 35 years, inadvertently snagged the pile of drawings with a spur, and down they came. Immediately recognized by his friend as being even more valuable than the tooled leather, the men concurred that something must be done to preserve and display this work done by recognized masters of early Western art.

New York Stocks at Closing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks sold off moderately toward the close today after recovering most of their early losses during mid-session.

The overall result was a limited decline in the popular averages on the smallest volume of the week, snapping a string of four medium-sized gains.

Most autos and steels finished narrowly, aside from Chrysler and U.S. Steel which dipped at least a point, the latter on news it will keep its National Tube Division closed an extra week because of slack demand. Du Pont dipped a pair in the chemicals where Thokol rose better than a point. Leading oil shares closed narrowly with few exceptions along with utilities and rails.

Owens-Illinois, up 1, was the only miscellaneous blue chip to move more than a fraction. Growth stocks bounced around erratically and few showed big changes at the close.

Trips Unnecessary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John P. Saylor, R-Pa., doesn't think it's necessary to send American comedians overseas on goodwill trips.

"Foreign nations already are laughing at America's foreign aid program," Saylor said in a statement.

He referred to the recent controversial trip to Afghanistan by a troupe of entertainers led by comedian Joey Adams.

Governor's Trying for GOP Help

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has been meeting with leading California Republicans in an effort to feel out sources of GOP support in his fall campaign against Richard M. Nixon.

Sources close to the governor said Thursday that he recently met with former U.S. Sen. William Knowland, his opponent in 1958, and Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell.

They also reported "contacts" with former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight and former Lt. Gov. Harold J. Powers.

However, the source who disclosed the meetings and contacts denied there had been any "formal" talk of endorsements and said there appeared little chance that major Republicans would actually come out for Brown.

Few GOP Write-ins

Brown is reported somewhat concerned about the fact that slightly more than 100,000 Democrats cast write-in votes for Nixon and Shell in the Democratic primary June 5.

He recalls that it was his impressive vote in the Republican primary in 1958, when cross-filing was still in effect, that gave his candidacy against Knowland much of its early impetus.

Brown received nearly a quarter of the GOP vote in the 1958 primary, but, with cross-filing gone this year, he garnered less than 6,000 write-ins on the Republican side.

The Governor said Thursday he hopes to receive 25 per cent of the Republican vote again this year. He discounted the primary write-ins, saying he had made no effort to capture Republican votes on June 5.

Hard Work Needed

But sources close to the Governor said he realizes he must work hard to cultivate GOP support. It is in this light, they said, that he has been approaching the Republican leaders.

The meeting with Knowland reportedly lasted 20 minutes in the offices of the former senator's newspaper, the Oakland Tribune, shortly after the primary. It was said to be arranged by "interested friends" of both men.

Reached in Oakland for comment, Knowland called the talk with Brown "purely a courtesy call."

"The governor has called on newspaper publishers from one end of the state to the other. I expect to be backing Mr. Nixon in the fall," Knowland said.

Brown's spokesman said the contacts with Shell, Knight and Powers had been similarly "routine."

However, another source close to the Governor said "intermediaries" had approached him, saying it was "possible" to get Knight's support.

Condition of Sir Winston Improved

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill, a blood clot in his broken left leg and a bronchial infection in his chest, is coughing less and his temperature has returned to normal, a medical bulletin said today.

The apparently encouraging news followed by an hour Lady Churchill's statement to reporters that she found her husband "rather better" this morning.

"Sir Winston Churchill had a comfortable night," the bulletin issued by the Middlesex Hospital said. "His temperature is normal and his coughing less. It is not proposed to issue a further bulletin until Monday if all goes well."

It was signed by Lord Moran, Churchill's regular physician, and the other three attending specialists—Drs. H.J. Seddon, Evan Bedford and P.H. Newman.

A special medical bulletin issued Thursday said Churchill's temperature had risen and disclosed the presence of the bronchial infection.

Today's comment on his coughing was the first official word that Churchill had been bothered by coughing.

Lady Churchill visited him for 35 minutes and emerged smiling from the hospital.

Telstar Message by Phone Scheduled Today

NEW YORK (UPI) — American Telstar scientists, unruffled by French-British oneupmanship in space, today planned to relay the first "true" transatlantic telephone conversations via the tiny, orbiting sphere.

Eugene McNeely, president of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. (AT&T) is scheduled to chat with Jacques Marette, French minister of post and telecommunications. A British official also will converse with the Andover, Maine station.

The feasibility of the calls was proved Thursday night when the Britons, still simmering over a French first in sending television to the United States, broke into technical tests on the 24th orbit and made telephone contact with AT&T men at Andover.

Their gallic counterparts drew abreast on the next orbit when they also reached Andover by telephone. American officials operated tolerantly in both experiments.

The transatlantic callers said "How do you do?" and "Do you hear me?" to each other, matching in oratorical power the historic first sentence uttered over the telephone, in 1876. At that time Alexander Graham Bell bellowed a command along the wires to an assistant in the next room: "Mr. Watson, come here. I need you."

Technicians said both of Thursday night's unscheduled calls were successful.

The British "first" helped to atone for a French coup of Wednesday night, when a taped program from Paris featuring Yves Montand and chanteuse Michele Arnaud was beamed into American living rooms during the Telstar's 15th orbit.

The enraged Britons struck back with their own show during the 16th orbit.

Thursday night, reports of technical difficulties with the satellite were circulating. AT&T said the trouble was "minor" and concerned "signals from remote minitrack stations to the satellite."

"There is nothing wrong with the satellite," an official at Andover said. "The satellite itself is in great shape. Things on the ground we can fix."

Bonds Bought

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Jordan and South Viet Nam have bought some of the projected $200 million worth of emergency United Nations bonds, it was announced Thursday.

Jordan purchased $25,000 worth and South Viet Nam, which is not a member of the world organization, $10,000 the announcement said.

Saturday to Be POP Day For Palm Springs' Kids

Saturday will be POP day for 70 Palm Springs youngsters, but dear old Dad won't be part of it.

POP is Pacific Ocean Park, destination of a full school bus load of sixth, seventh, and eighth grade pupils in the Palm Springs school district area. With 25 youngsters on the waiting list for the trip sponsored by the Palm Springs Recreation and Special Events Department, the trip will be on a first come, first served basis for those now signed up.

Howard Haddock, department director, announced.

The youngsters will pay 25 cents for the 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. trip. Other costs will be paid by the city. The trip will include swimming at the Santa Monica beach, and a watermelon feast. The Palm Springs Recreation department will provide the watermelon.

Four chaperones will supervise the trip, Haddock emphasized. The trip is the first of four slated by the city department this summer.

The Palm Springs Unified School District board met in special session Thursday to approve the 1962-3 contract between the city and the school district for use of the big school buses for recreational programs. In addition, a special motion was approved, authorizing the Saturday trip, which will take place before the regular contract provisions take effect.

The city will reimburse actual operation expense of the bus to the school district. During the summer, extra city insurance is needed to cover the operation, but major costs are fuel and driver. The cost is approximately 40 cents per operating mile, with a payload of 79 youngsters or 72 adults.

Landscape Bids All Rejected

An error in the bid opening instructions for the landscaping contracts at the College of the Desert has necessitated the rejection of all bids. The delay will be promptly rectified by calling for the bids again in the immediate future.

In other business at last night's board of trustees meeting, approval for the board to participate in a group insurance program for classified and certificated employees was received affirmatively. The college will participate up to and not exceeding 50 per cent of the amount to be paid by the employees. The next step will be to survey the staff and then contact interested companies.

A public hearing on the budget will be brought forth on Aug. 16 in an adjourned meeting of the board at 11 a.m. The next regular session to be on Aug. 9. On the same subject, the board voted to hold its regular meetings on the second Thursday of each month, as it has been.

Curriculum additions, including real estate courses, police science, data processing and physical education, increased programming, plus personnel approvals, comprised the rest of the monthly agenda.

29 Palms Airport Purchase Sought

SAN BERNARDINO —Purchase of the Twenty-nine Palms Airport from the federal government has been recommended to the board of supervisors by the County Aviation Advisory Committee.

Acquisition and improvement of the facility was urged to county administrators following reports that the facility, now operated on a lease basis, was in financial difficulty.

Wallace L. Robbins, county aviation director, pointed out that the county has avoided airport purchase and operation in the past, but agreed that the present lease agreement "is not satisfactory."

The Aviation Committee's report held that lease income from the facility would more than cover the cost of the purchase. The airport is part of the Federal Aviation Agency's national airport plan.

Greyhound Crash Kills Two and Injures 40

BELLEVILLE, Ind. (UPI)—Two persons were killed and nearly 40 were injured early today when a Greyhound Scenicruiser en route from St. Louis to New York was ripped open and spilled its human cargo over the country-side after colliding with a big semi-trailer.

Many of the passengers were asleep when the crash occurred on heavily-traveled U.S. 40 near here. Some of them were hurled out side as the right side of the huge bus opened up as if it had been sheared by a giant can opener.

Indiana state police said the accident apparently occurred when the bus tried to pass the truck.

Pointing of Rifle at Self Decides Senator

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John L. McClellan has decided by dint of pointing a rifle at his chest that the man who may have held the secret of the Billie Sol Estes case never killed himself.

The chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee Thursday found that another thread in the unravelling Estes case ended in the sun-baked Texas field where Agriculture Department official Henry H. Marshall was shot dead last year.

Five bullets from a bolt-action .22 caliber rifle killed him, but his death was ruled a suicide and a grand jury that reviewed later could not agree on the cause of death.

Questions Unanswered

But after fiddling with a duplicate of the death weapon Thursday, McClellan concluded that "no man committed suicide with a weapon like this."

It left unanswered, he said, the questions of "why, how and maybe by whom."

It also left unanswered the subcommittee's question of the moment — why Agriculture Department field officials in Texas never clamped down on Estes' cotton operations.

The subcommittee today called in officials to find out why they rummaged around in Texas for key documents that might have nipped Estes' operations in the bud when, in fact, the documents could have been had for a four-cent stamp from either a congressman or the department's own Oklahoma office.

McClellan, after setting aside the rifle and dipping into the matter of the search for executed copies of Estes' sale contracts, said the department's field operations appeared "looser than ever."

All the while the department was looking for the contracts in Texas, three department officials had seen copies of them in the office of House Democratic Leader Carl Albert, D-Okla.

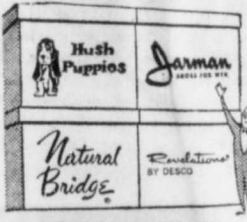

When witnesses told of the search they had made for the contracts in Texas, where Estes was still amassing about 3,100 acres of transferred cotton allotments, McClellan asked:

"Did you ever contact your Oklahoma office? Would it surprise you to know that all our investigators had to do was go down there to get (the contracts)?"

Hot Springs Day At L.A. County Fair Sept. 29

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Desert Hot Springs Day at the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona will fall Sept. 29.

Al Horton, chamber of commerce head here said that fair officials had offered to honor the community on this day and that the chamber of commerce had accepted the invitation.

The chamber authorized a committee headed by Mrs. Selma Kait to spend up to $150 for expenses which may be incurred in arranging for participation in varied activities on the fairgrounds.

Albert E. Scott Rites Conducted

Funeral services for Albert E. Scott, 79, a former manager for the telephone company's desert area district, were conducted in San Diego. Cremation followed.

A frequent visitor in Palm Springs over the last 15 years, Scott served in Riverside, Imperial and San Diego Counties as a telephone official. He died Monday.

Permits Issued At Palm City For 158 Houses

PALM CITY — Permits for 158 new houses here totaling $1,697,938 in construction value, topped the resort area building lists during the first 12 days of July.

The 158 permits issued to the Marnel Construction Co. accounted for all but fringe items in the $1,701,971 building permit total here during the 1-12 July period.

Marnel permits included three houses at $8,078 each; 26 at $9,336; 12 at $9,966; 38 at $11,028; 15 at $11,032; 40 at $11,078.

A $3,000 swim pool permit was issued to A. Berkman, 79-876 Boqueron. Other permits included: a $580 patio cover for James Gage, 42-905 Wisconsin; $420 permit to H. N. Hite, 42-845 Wisconsin, fence; and $33 to E. G. Hodgins, 77-206 Michigan, for a fence.

Cathedral City Census Shows 2,621 Persons

CATHEDRAL CITY — County-audited census in Cathedral City, unincorporated, gives that community a population tally of 2,621 persons. The figure is to be used on the area entrance signs.

The Chamber reports that the most recent business additions include David's Furniture, Biondi's Shoe Clinic and the Spudnut Shop.

In the improvement focus are the newly paved streets around the Community Church and paving in process on Terrace Drive connecting to the Riverside County flood control system.

25 Persons Honored for Heroic Acts

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission has honored 25 persons for acts of heroism performed in helping others in distress.

One silver medal, 24 bronze medals plus pensions and monetary awards were granted to the heroes or their survivors by the commission. The heroic acts cited by the fund occurred in nine states, with Ohio most prominently mentioned with seven.

Four citations were made posthumously.

A silver medal went to a 60-year-old operating engineer who attempted to save a fellow worker from fatal burns when a pipeline carrying hot sulphuric acid burst at a chemical company plant in Ohio.

Acid Douses Men

Shelby Becknell, Cincinnati, was working with Frank O. Adamson, 64, on June 6, 1961 at a chemical plant in St. Bernard, Ohio, when an overhead pipe burst.

A thick spray of sulphuric acid doused both men, but Becknell managed to run into a nearby shower room to wash off part of the acid.

Hearing loud moaning, Becknell ran outside again and saw Adamson lying in a pool of acid two inches deep. He went to his co-worker's side and began pulling him free. But Becknell fell, injuring his hip. He regained his footing and on the second try managed to pull and carry Adamson to the shower room.

The men were taken to a hospital, where Adamson succumbed to multiple acid burns. Becknell, also badly burned and with a hip injury that is now permanent, spent 10 weeks in the hospital.

Four Drown

A little more than a month later—on July 19, 1961—a tragedy that claimed four lives unfolded at Dunkinsville, Ohio.

Buddy R. Damron, 14, had gone swimming in a creek and began to flounder in six feet of water. Chester G. Hurst, 53, a farmer from West Union, Ohio, spotted the boy and went to his rescue.

Young Damron panicked and both he and Hurst submerged. Two other boys who were in the vicinity, Richard E. Henderson and Roy Eugene McKee, both 14, dived into the creek to give assistance.

Damron and his three would-be rescuers all drowned. The commission presented medals posthumously to Hurst, Henderson and McKee.

Schools of County Get $88,583

SACRAMENTO —California secondary schools have received nearly $4 million to improve counseling since Congress passed the National Defense Education Act in 1958, Superintendent of Public Instruction Roy E. Simpson has announced.

Of the total, Simpson said, $949,881 is allocated for the coming school year.

An allocation of $22,535 boosted Riverside County's total to $88,583.

In bolstering testing and counseling services, local school districts have provided $12 for each NDEA dollar. Approximately 90 per cent of the NDEA funds have been spent on salaries of counselors and counselors' clerks.

Schools participating in the NDEA program during the coming year will provide a full-time counselor or equivalent for every 475 students and will assign only qualified persons to counseling duties, Simpson said.

Visitor Is Delighted With Desert Women

By LEE CHRISTOPHER
One of the most pleased-with-the-summer scene in a long time is Marcella Shannon Boley, the vivid, vivacious, quite-delightful houseguest of Mildred Meade Moore. Undaunted by the prospect of July heat in the desert, she jetted out from her home in Chicago for a series of Coast visits and a stay here with her long-time friend.

Main purpose of her journey was to meet the fiancée of her son, John Shannon, who is Miss Eleanor Reimers, sister of the well-known television personality, Ed Reimers. (The young pair met when skiing at Squaw Valley.) In Merced, the Reimers' home, Mrs. Boley was entertained by Eleanor and her parents.

Stops in San Francisco preceded her visit to the desert; she termed her journey here a "return to Paradise."

Before her successful marriage to Dr. Michael H. Boley, prominent Chicago physician whom she has temporarily deserted for her visit West, Mrs. Boley, as Marcella Shannon, had a brilliant career in beauty and fashion. Because of this background, she is acutely aware of Women.

"I am enchanted with everyone I have met here," she said, her pretty eyes snapping. "The warmth and graciousness of these desert women is outstanding. I don't know when I have encountered a group with so much talent, plus background, plus the art of knowing how to live."

She was referring particularly to a group of seven which Miss Moore entertained earlier this week in her Pablo Drive home to introduce her guest. First there was the hostess herself, who has an enviable reputation as an interior decorator. Then there was Muriel Fulton, one of the area's most astute realtors (she is the current chairman of the Real Estate Board's high-rise committee.) Miss Fulton was accompanied by her sister, Gladys Sanborn, whom Mrs. Boley described as "the epitome of charm."

to Santa Monica and a visit with Lady Lawford . . . and Gracie Bainter Burgess, who quite captivated Mrs. Boley with her elfin vivacity and the enchanting children's songs she composes and sings so fetchingly.

With the hostess and her houseguest, it was natural that much of the talk was in the "do-you-remember?" theme, and they regaled the others with tales of beauty and fashion from the days when Mrs. Boley was Western manager for Helena Rubinstein in Chicago. That was when they met. Mrs. Boley, then Marcella Shannon, was looking for someone to redecorate Rubinstein's Chicago salon. Mildred Moore was recommended; she did the job outstandingly and the two have been close friends ever since.

"Madame Rubinstein, now well past 70, is one of the two most outstanding cosmetologists of our time," Mrs. Boley believes. "The other is Elizabeth Arden. Both are creative. Both have made millions."

"Naturally, I know more about Madame Rubinstein, who is loved all over the world. She speaks nine languages and is a fantastically fine financier."

PARTY WHIRL PRECEDING NUPTIALS

Kathy Dix to Wed Aug. 11

Kathy Dix is indeed living on "Happy Street" these days as she is caught up in a swirl of parties preceding her August marriage to Robert Albert Neely. Kathy, more formally known as Kathleen Lorraine, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Grayson Dix Jr., whose address is 2004 Calle Felicia.

Next in the exciting series of pre-wedding festivities is the shower which Miss Mary Beebe is giving tonight at the San Jacinto Way home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Beebe.

Don Brumbaugh will come down from Redlands to be the bride's best man. Serving as ushers will be Gary Hecht and Rob Jones of Palm Springs, and Allen Pratt of Cathedral City.

Following a reception at the church and their honeymoon to an undisclosed destination, the young pair will make their home here.

Cream Sauce Excellent With Fish

A mushroom gravy served with London Broil may be chic in England, but in Paris, mushroom sauces are served with fish.

For an especially delicious dinner, a French mushroom cream sauce, "sauce creme aux champignons," can be Americanized with one of our own products — a can of condensed cream of mushroom soup. Add to that 3 tablespoons of evaporated milk, a 4-ounce can of sliced mushrooms, and a tablespoon of cooking sherry. Blend these ingredients well, heat through, and — voila! — Mushroom Cream Sauce a la Americaine.

Served over baked, broiled, or poached halibut steaks, this sauce will add the gourmet touch that changes an everyday meal into a treat.

An August Date
The bride-to-be has set Aug. 11 as the date of her nuptials, which will take place at 7 p.m. in the Palm Springs Community Church. Dr. James Blackstone will perform the service.

Kathy has asked Miss Beebe to be her maid of honor. Taking bridesmaid roles will be Miss Sandra Becker of Covina, Mrs. John Watkins of Palm Springs, and Mrs. Dee Bandlow, also of Palm Springs.

Studied in Pomona
Kathy, a Palm Springs High School graduate, has been majoring in commercial art at Mt. San Antonio College in Pomona. Her fiancé, a Redlands High alumnus, also studied at the Pomona college. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Neely of Anza Trail.

Another party will be given for Kathy on July 27, when Mrs. J. W. Templeman, a close family friend, entertains in her San Dimas home.

Dilled Ham Sauce
Dilled ham sauce makes a tasty topping for green beans. Mix 1 (4 ounce) can of deviled ham with 1-3 cup of sour cream and 1/4 teaspoon of dried dill weed in a small saucepan. Heat, stirring constantly, to serving temperature but do not allow to boil. Makes about 3/4 cup of sauce. Serve hot.

Caraway corn muffins team up with cream soup to make a hearty lunch. Just add 1 teaspoon of caraway seed to dry ingredients in a package of cornbread mix, and prepare as label directs.

Mrs. Colven Is Honor Guest At Baby Shower

A gaily decorated umbrella perched in the entrance — way warned Mrs. Edward Colven she was guest of honor at a surprise baby shower.

Scene of the party was the Juanita Drive home of Mrs. Stanley Phillips, who hosted the shower with Miss Cora Ryder and Mrs. Gary Sanders. They are all co-workers at the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association.

Twenty guests gathered for the dessert and punch party in Mrs. Phillips' living room, which was decorated with yellow flowers and candles for the affair.

The tops of children's socks will stay up better if dipped into a medium starch solution.

Ruggiero Ricci

Ruggiero Ricci to Make Redlands Bowl Appearance

There will be three events at Redlands Bowl next week: A recital by the violin virtuoso, Ruggiero Ricci, at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, July 17; and two performances of the Gilbert and Sullivan "The Pirates of Penzance," at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday, July 20 and 21. The programs are open to the public without charge, with a free will offering taken to cover expenses.

With Carlo Bussotti at the piano, Ricci will perform the Tartin-Kreisler Sonata in G Major (The Devil's Trill), Beethoven's Sonata in A Major (Kreutzer), Bach's Sonata No. 1 in G Minor (for violin alone), Paganini's Variations on a G-String (Moses) and the Paganini-Kreisler "I Palpitanti."

The Ricci recital will be preceded at 7:30 p.m. with community singing, led by Wilbur H. Schowalter, with Ruth Grinnell Fowler at the piano.

James K. Guthrie will conduct "Pirates" and Joan Woodbury Wilcox will be stage director. Choro-graphy is by Stanley Hall. Principals will be Al Newell, Barry Rumbles, Hugh Folkins, Burt Dean Smith, William O'Leary, Marilyn Fitzgerald, Reba Mason, Marlene Moffett, Gladys Edwards and Kim Kimball. Dancers will be Madonna Mabry and Rudy Rajkovich.

History of Playing Cards Goes Back to 13th Century

NEW YORK (UPI)—The next time your partner trumps your ace in a bridge game, count to 10 and then let off steam by reflecting on the colorful history of the playing card.

Consider, for example, that playing cards have been enlivening or depressing, but always entertaining mankind for more than 600 years and how many aces have been trumped, or similar boobies perpetrated in that time and your own plight may seem less bleak.

As far back as the 13th or 14th century, traders from the East brought with them spices, fine cloth, gold, ivory — and playing cards. And the cards had much of the elements of today's cards.

The expensive, rare and richly worked ancient decks were called "Tarocchi" and found mainly in Medieval Italy. They consisted of a trump suit of twenty-two "Atouts" in addition to four 14-card suits.

The Atouts represented the most important forces affecting mankind, such as religion, lightning, disease, war and death. The common suits were basically the four suits of the decks we have now. They represented nobility, clergy, tradesmen and peasants—today's spade, hearts, diamonds and clubs, respectively. Face cards were essentially the same except that Knaves were called Cavaliers.

Cards originally were made by hand of costly materials, including ivory, metal, silk and wood. Many were gold-encrusted. Gutenberg, father of printing, brought his discovery to cards and fine quality low cost cards began to receive wide popularity.

The five standard decks of European playing cards have survived, at least in the numbers of Ages. Besides the Tarocchi deck, there are the Italian decks of 40 cards, the Spanish deck of 48 cards, the German deck of 32 cards and the most widely used French and English-American of 52 cards.

Sheri Good in Skin Diver's Role on TV

"Miss Palm Springs", Sheri Good, 17, and Palm Springs' Canyon Country Club will be starred on television's Channel 11, Sunday night, July 15 at 8 p.m.

Miss Good, in the role of a skin diver, will show the desert's latest sport, skin diving for golf balls, in the picturesque lake at the famous club.

The Brauer Brothers of the show "Territory Underwater" filmed the scenes for the program.

Sheri is not a professional skin diver, but her retrieving of 116 golf balls from the 15-foot deep, 3 million gallon lake at Canyon Country Club is regarded by some as an unofficial world's championship.

The same film will be shown in color in major cities of the United States, including Baltimore, San Francisco, Cleveland and New York.

Carmen at Irvine Bowl

A Festival of Opera sound rehearsal was held recently in famed Irvine Bowl, proving that the acoustics and stage construction will adapt wonderfully to one of the first "Operas Under the Stars" to be presented in this country.

Sylvain Robert, general director for the Festival of Opera, expressed complete satisfaction in the semi-natural amphitheater after their first sound rehearsal-test.

The newly-formed Festival of Opera will open their first season in Laguna Beach on August 24th and 25th with Bizet's Carmen, starring Metropolitan tenor William Olvis and Metropolitan contralto Margaret Roggero.

Horoscope Forecast

By CAROL RIGHTER

Saturday, July 14, 1962

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This Saturday is a day to be very direct and dynamic in finishing all tasks facing you and in arranging whatever you wish to do in the future—especially that urge and desire that is yours to expand, extend and to enrich your life by greater study, travel and applications with more focus on a desirable way of life.

ARIES (Birthdays from Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—Make it a point to get out early to new places where you can meet interesting people. Be more broad-minded. Get into sports that are helpful, travel to fascinating places.

TAURUS (Birthdays from Apr. 20 to May 20)—Are you sure you have paid your bills on time or met some other type of obligation to others? If not, do it now. Be trustworthy, whether in business or personal affairs.

GEMINI (Birthdays from May 21 to June 21)—A good day to know just what your true position is with others. Contact those with whom you have had a misunderstanding and reconcile. Be specific about your aims or ideas.

MOON CHILDREN (Birthdays from June 22 to July 21)—A good day to handle all those small tasks that have been accumulating. Be cooperative with fellow-workers. Get wardrobe and health improved this evening.

LEO (Birthdays from July 22 to Aug. 21)—Make appointments early for any entertainment you may have in mind. Contact those you truly enjoy. There is a possibility of meeting a very fascinating person in P. M.

VIRGO (Birthdays from Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Devote much time to increasing harmony at home and buying little gifts that please for family. Speak kindly, thoughtfully. Put new ideas to work for increasing abundance, too.

LIBRA (Birthdays from Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Fine day for shopping, getting larger filled, paying little visits, reading your paper carefully, etc. Contact those you want in your life in the future. Cement ties.

SCORPIO (Birthdays from Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—This is the ideal day to make improvements to property so that value and beauty are increased. However, don't be extravagant. Concentrate on how to increase income in P. M., too.

SAGITTARIUS (Birthdays from Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Think in terms of what you truly want in life, then dress tastefully and be off in the direction that brings such goals closer to you. Be specific. Show true sociability to-night.

CAPRICORN (Birthdays from Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Every opportunity is yours now to plan wisely for the future on this free day. Also, get busy with small but important accumulated duties. Get advice from experts in P. M.

AQUARIUS (Birthdays from Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—It is best that you contact friends of long ago for finest benefits, today and to-night. Be honest, specific in stating your aims. Have fun socially, especially in P. M.

PISCES (Birthdays from Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)—Get an early start at that myriad of outside duties that need expert handling right now. Safeguard credit, good will, etc. Get out to right places socially in P. M.

If Your Child Is Born Today . . . You will find that he, or she, possesses the type of mind that will be capable of understanding even the most complicated matters and will be a born salesperson. So be certain you give the advantage of a college education, stressing the study of foreign languages and philosophies so that the greatest success can be achieved in this interesting chart.

TY HARDIN as a young lieutenant leading the scouting platoon fords a steaming Burma swamp accompanied by Peter Brown, Will Hutchins and Claude Akins in this scene from the Warner Bros. production "Merrill's Marauders," opening next Wednesday at the Sunair Drive-In Theatre. Jeff Chandler stars as Brig. Gen. Frank D. Merrill in the gripping story of the famed battalion that waged guerrilla warfare behind enemy lines during World War II. The Technicolor drama was filmed in the Philippines by producer Milton Sperling and director Samuel Fuller.

Actor Would Like Change

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actor-producer Paul Henreid has been assured he will not have to play the romantically suave role that made him famous in MGM's "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

He said he wouldn't take a part without the stipulation that he'd play a different type of role. "You know this type well," he said, "fascinating, debonair, and utterly charming—the kind of people I simply can't stand anymore."

Fame of Movie Actress

5 Years Big Difference For Anne Bancroft

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Five years ago Anne Bancroft was as far from movie stardom as a dozen "B" pictures could put her. She had spent more than six years appearing in second rate films, the best of which was "New York Confidential." The future was dreary.

"Producers and directors didn't know I was alive," Anne recalled on a recent trip to Hollywood, her first visit in five years. "I knew I had to prove to myself that I could act."

In her determination to "show 'em," the dark-haired actress — whose real name is Anne Italiano — took the most humiliating trek in the books. She returned to her home in New York a failure.

"I left Manhattan for Hollywood like all young actresses, full of hope and confident of becoming a movie star," she said. "But even in my own eyes I was a failure. It wasn't as bad as I anticipated."

"The road back from your hopes is no more difficult to travel than the road on the way to your dreams. At least I discovered who I was and found out what I could do. Also I realized that my failures were not entirely my own."

"At the time I blamed myself. But now I realize that it was a combination of circumstances, other people and the Hollywood system."

Lana Turner's Daughter Models Swimming Suits In LA Strip Cafe

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Cheryl Crane, 18-year-old daughter of Lana Turner who made headlines four years ago in the slaying of Johnny Stompanato, had a new part time job today modeling swim suits in a small Sun Strip cafe.

"I'm a little bit nervous about modeling in a night club," said the adult-looking Cheryl before her first appearance Friday. "But I did have some experience modeling in high school." It's a once-a-week job, between 5 and 7 p.m. Fridays. The night club fashion show has become a part time job today modeling vogue for several clubs along the Sunset Strip.

Looking all of her 18 years, Cheryl posed in a bikini but was demurely covered with a serape, or cape, over her shoulders.

The new job pays her $27.50 for two hours work, plus commissions.

Tall and shapely, Cheryl said she hoped the new job would lead to an acting career.

Asked about hiring Miss Crane, a spokesman for the club said, "It's not costing much, and I'll get thousands of dollars in free publicity."

Miss Crane, a pretty brunette, said she was on good terms with both her mother and father, restaurateur Steve Crane. She said she was not living at home and had been on her own for two months, not accepting help from her parents.

"I don't live at home," she said. "I share a small house in West Hollywood with another girl. I want to make good on my own."

First Performance Tonight Of 'The Pale Pink Dragon'

The first production of the seventh season of the Junior Players resident drama group at the University of Southern California's Idyllwild program at the Idyllwild Arts Foundation, will be presented tonight at 7 p.m. in the Junior Players Theatre.

"The Pale Pink Dragon" an original fantasy by Phyllis McCallum has to do with an off-beat, non-conformist dragon. Witches, magic cats and a handsome prince also figure in the action.

Director of the program is Burdette Fitzgerald, of the Theater Arts Department of UCLA and she is assisted by Judith Henderson with Phil Auth as technical director and Richard Holland, costume designer.

In the cast are Greg Bonenberger, Chigger Lewis, Dana Rees, Liz Seymour, Ellen Lundberg, Drew Birns, Rita Bower, Elizabeth Brown, Kathy Bramley, Roberta Fields, Susan Kirkwood, Lauren Harwood, Mary Ann McCollum, Sally Baldwin, Kitty Yallen, Barbara Spatz and Polly Bakalinsky, students from all over the Southwest.

Other performances of "The Pale Pink Dragon" will be given on Saturday, at 4 p.m., Friday, July 20, at 7 p.m. and Saturday,

REAL ESTATE Projects and Personalities

UNDER CONSTRUCTION are two elevator equipped three story apartment buildings on Tahquitz McCallum Way at Farrell Drive. A furnished model will be ready for exhibit in approximately two weeks. (Desert Sun Photo)

Arts, Crafts Center Ready at Palm City

The new Arts and Crafts Center at Palm City will open this weekend, it was announced by developer Nels G. Severin.

The new center is a modern, one-story structure located in the recreation area of Palm City, the $30 million "active retirement" community for senior citizens being built near Palm Springs.

The Arts and Crafts building has special rooms for equipment for photography and sewing, wood and leather work, and weaving, lapidary, jewelry and enamel work. It also has a storage area and an office for the executive director of Palm City Home Owners Association.

"With the completion of the center, our residents now have one more way to enjoy active retirement," Severin said.

In addition to arts and crafts, the recreation center offers swimming, shuffleboard, game and card rooms, a reading and TV lounge, kitchen, assembly hall and stage. A special roque court will be completed next week.

Two golf courses are also included in the 560-acre project, with all homes and apartments surrounding the green fairways. The first nine holes are now being played.

The nearly 800 retired and semi-retired residents of Palm City also have the convenience of a neighborhood shopping center, which opened recently, and a medical-dental facility.

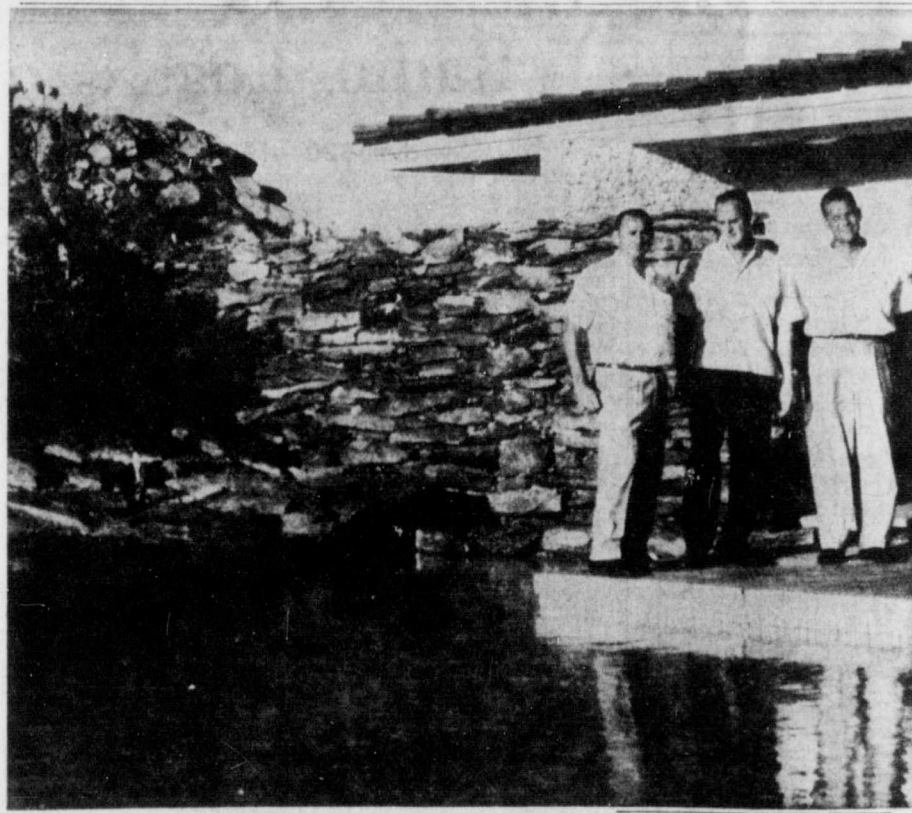

Seven model homes, displaying the two-and three-bedroom, two-bathroom floor plans available, are open seven days a week until dark. Designed by noted Los Angeles architect William Bray, AIA, they have been creatively furnished by C. Tony Pereira.

Palm Towers Model Will Open Soon

Scheduled for an initial showing in about two weeks are the ultra modern East and West Palm Towers elevator apartments at McCallum Way and Farrell Drive.

Deluxe in every proportion, the million dollar-plus undertaking of the Seabreeze Construction Company consists of two 64-unit, three-story apartment accommodations. Elevators, refrigeration, heated pools, private patios and sun decks golf practice greens and shuffleboard courts are all included in the new apartments with a distinct emphasis on leisure living at its best.

A variance application from the Seaboard Construction Company regarding block wall transformer enclosures that, if approved, would be 3 1/2 feet above the required 4 1/2 foot maximum for front yard setbacks areas, is to be heard July 27 at 2 p.m. in the city council chamber.

Mountain Home on Show

An informal showing was given on Southridge of a recently completed home to acquaint local realtors with the general development of Southridge and its many spectacular attributes.

The new home, which nests atop a section of the Southridge area, overlooks the vast resort desert area both to the north and south which sprawls and fans out in all directions.

Ross Patton and Albert Wild designed and constructed the new dwelling and the exquisite decorating was done by the Palm Canyon Interiors.

An unusual feature of the mountain home is the patio and pool area.

DESERT GARDENS

Trim Pyracantha but Keep the Shrubs Wet

It is difficult to choose a time to prune a Pyracantha hedge. The myriads of tiny white blooms that somewhat resemble bridal veil are so picturesque in March that one has a feeling of desecration when tempted to use the pruning scissors.

Those who know Pyracantha well realize that the deep red berry that later on takes the place of the white bloom are also spectacular when it heralds in the new season.

Trimming the top of the hedge to make it symmetrical does not raise any qualms of conscience, neither does the trimming away the shoots that occasionally jut out to a point where they become a nuisance. So we generally leave it at that and soon the hedge becomes sufficiently thick to keep out stray dogs etc. During these summer months Pyracantha needs more watering, especially if it grows against a wall that absorbs the direct rays of the sun.

These days heavy irrigation is best handled in late evening or very early morning. As it comes out of the hose the water sinks down to the roots and gives the plant a chance to drink up while the soil is cool and the sun has less evaporative power.

Geraniums Need Help

In Southern California handling of geraniums and pelargoniums is easy and encouraging. In many valleys between the coast and our desert raising them to satisfaction is not difficult. Here is an entirely different story.

Expert horticulturalists dealing with the coast and inner valleys, and writing about successful raising of these plants, say that the common geranium needs full sun and pelargoniums, especially the Lady Washington, need protection from the midday sun and will thrive in filtered sunshine. They write southeast or west exposures and the use of pelargoniums for borders.

This advice we must — perhaps reluctantly — ignore. There is a vast difference between the milder sun rays enjoyed (sometimes) on the coast and in some inner valleys. Three hours of the early sun is about all pelargoniums and geraniums can successfully imbibe here.

Recognizing this fact localities bed these plants on the north side of the house close to a wall that is never as hot as an easterly, southerly, or westerly wall.

Plant on Shady Side

As we stated in a previous article geranium is of the pelargonium family and should be accepted as such.

We also plant azaleas on the north side of the house and for the same reason. Using only the azaleas transplanted from Easter gifts potted plants that will not withstand the summer morning without shade from taller plants, we find geraniums an excellent protection.

Aided by the peat moss in which the azaleas are embedded, peat moss that retains moisture watering the trough in which both plants thrive is not difficult. This arrangement is satisfactory because too much watering of geraniums could kill them, especially if the soil happens to be anything but sandy.

Following the advice as to location the Amateur Gardener should not find it difficult to raise geraniums and pelargoniums, (here we go again, they are all pelargoniums). All he has to do is look around for neighbors and friends who raise these beauties and who frequently have to cut them back.

T.G.M.

Cool summertime salads can be kept that way in a new salad server of Frostwood, a material with a swirled frosty texture that looks like fine wood grain but is actually a foamed plastic core faced on either side with a smooth, hard, non-cellular skin. This sandwich construction combines thermal or insulating properties with the abrasion and the shock resistance of rigid molded articles. Product of Gitsware Corporation, Roselle, Ill.

A Hammock Means Relax

To those who are genuinely interested in the art of summer relaxation, the July Sunset dedicates an article on hammocks. A modest amount of labor insures the certainty of a place to relax that is time-tested by centuries.

The hammock developed in the warm Caribbean countries and its coolness, lightness, mobility, and comfort have so fascinated all since Columbus that it has migrated over the world and back again.

A hand designed hammock with colorful applique spends its winter days as a wall hanging in the family room. As extra sleeping for guests, a hammock can be used in a child's room or crowded weekend cabin.

The magazine article includes a two-page color display of hammock ideas and suggests places to use them, ways to rig, choices and prices; and some handy accessories such as a table for books and refreshments within reach of a languid arm over the side.

Radio Series Features Desert Hospital Staff

A new public service series is scheduled to begin on radio station KDES Saturday, at 8:05 a.m. It will be titled "The KDES Stethoscope" and will present weekly, inside views into each working department of the Palm Springs Desert Hospital.

General Manager Norman W. Lofthus said that the purpose of the series is to give desert residents a concise picture of the functions of the hospital. This series will in time reach into every corner of the hospital, providing listeners with information never before made available, Lofthus said.

The programs are of five minutes duration and will be aired every Saturday for a period of 12 weeks. They will present interviews with department heads, patient comments, and outspoken, un-rehearsed statements on the part of the hospital staff.

Promise Purchase

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Afghanistan has notified the United Nations it will buy $25,000 worth of U.N. bonds, according to an announcement here.

Afghanistan was the 40th country to pledge support for the $200 million U.N. bond issue. Pledges so far total more than $65.7 million, with $25.8 million already bought.

This marks the first time that a production of this magnitude with regard to hospital workings has been undertaken in this area, Lofthus said.

The series was produced and recorded by KDES news director Hap Trout in cooperation with the administrative staff at the Palm Springs hospital.

First on the agenda for broadcast is an interview with hospital director Robert Henwood.

Strides Forward in Mental Health

The principal mental disease is schizophrenia, which involves a disintegration of the human personality. Until recently, victims were fabled to spend their lives in mental hospitals, at a huge cost, not only in money but in human suffering and values. But now, due to new drugs and improved therapy, remarkable strides are being made in combatting it.

Herbert Lawson tells the story in a recent issue of the Wall Street Journal. He cites, as one example, a man who threw his daughter from a balcony and was confined to an asylum for many years. But after treatment with tranquilizers he was released, is back at work, and living a seemingly normal life.

In late years the long upward trend of schizophrenics in New York hospitals has been reversed. The decline, according to the deputy commissioner of New York's Department of Mental Hygiene, "began abruptly with the introduction of large-scale drug therapy in 1955 and has continued ever since."

A very recent development, Mr. Lawson says, lies in the use of psychic energizers, which are sometimes used in combination with the tranquilizers to both calm anxiety and elevate a depressed patient at the same time. He adds, "While more and more schizophrenics are being helped by drugs, a determined band of researchers is trying to work an even more basic revolution in control of the disease."

This is just one of the many complicated research projects carried on by this country's pharmaceutical industry in conjunction with the medical profession and just one of the arrows pointing to healthier, happier, more productive lives for millions of people.

Other Editors

While there are undoubtedly cases of hardship where elderly citizens have trouble meeting medical expenses, we can't agree that the solution to the problem is under social security. . . . Social security was designed as retirement insurance and for that purpose it is excellent. If, however, all types of services are to be added to it, there is no end to how costly it could become. Besides, the relationship between patient and doctor is a personal matter and we, for one, would hate to see this change. With the rules and red tape that would accompany medical aid under social security this undoubtedly would restrict this relationship.

—Salmon (Idaho) Recorder-Herald

With Billie Sol Estes and excess profits from stockpiling in the headlines almost daily it is encouraging, indeed, to see the news about Municipal Judge Glanton of Des Moines. It didn't make the big headlines but it is highly significant if only to remind us that not everybody is out to take the government.

As a Negro jurist of high repute, Judge Glanton was chosen a few months ago by the state department to represent the United States on a four-month speaking tour in Africa and the Far East. He returned from this tour recently and only last week announced that he is turning back $492 in salary to Des Moines and Polk county in two equal checks.

Judge Glanton explained that while he was gone the federal government paid him $700 a month for travel and living expenses. He also received his regular salary from the city of Des Moines and the county of Polk as a municipal judge. After expenses he found that he had cleared $492 above his regular salary as a result of the trip.

"I feel I have a moral obligation not to make a profit from the trip," Judge Glanton said. And with that he sent checks of $246 each back to the city and the county.

We could stand some more of this kind of morality at higher levels of government. Congressmen planning foreign junkets please take note.

Lawrence Henry Gipson . . . has just won the Pulitzer prize in American history at the age of 80 . . . 'Needle Eye' Gipson 'retired' from active teaching at age 67 to do research work, and finish the 10-volume history of 'The British Empire Before the American Revolution' which he had begun in his spare time in 1927 . . . He finished Volume Ten, wrote a couple of other books, and found time to return to England and teach at Oxford in 1951-52. His achievements offer something of an example for all those who retire and, like bumps on logs, sit around doing nothing, waiting for tomorrow.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Political Battle Looms in Texas

WASHINGTON — You might say that the Texas gubernatorial election is the Dance of the Seventh Veil — er, Flag.

The mighty Lone Star State has existed under six flags, and the Republicans now say they are fighting to prevent it from going under another — the banner of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, which flies from the masthead of the famous LBJ Ranch.

The GOP candidate, Jack Cox of Breckenridge, was in Washington recently and at a luncheon given by Senator John Tower (R) brought this issue to a table of invited correspondents.

Cox argues with vim and sincerity that the Democratic candidate, the handsome and brilliant former Navy Secretary John Connally is Johnson's hand-picked choice and would be controlled from Washington by the New Frontier, which is not very popular down home. The old charges of ballot box larceny and other acts of high-handedness are being hopefully revived and a sinister set of demonic horns has been fashioned for Johnson's sunburned brow.

Story Line Strained

But the whole picture is a little fuzzy, as one might expect it to be when draped by a veil. The charges of vote hijacking are old hat, dating back to 1948, and have been expunged by Johnson's reelections in 1954 and 1960. Candidate Cox is a forceful man, a former Democrat who turned Republican on principle, but the credibility of his story line seems a little strained. He contends, for example, that John Kennedy ticket for 1964, but this does not jibe with the President's recent press conference endorsement of his running mate. Nor is it very believable that as strong a personality as Connally will wear anybody's collar.

Where the Republicans do have a chance, however, is in the vengeful determination of the DOT's (Democrats of Texas) as the Laborite-Liberal wing, to purge the party of its conservative sentiments and personalities. The DOT house journal is the Texas Observer, an Austin weekly which startled the regular Democratic party and gladdened Republican hearts by an editorial article signed "Publius," which ended on this keynote:

"The election of Republican Cox means the destruction of the Johnson - Connally - Shivers power apparatus within the Democratic party. . . . When survival (of liberalism) is the only issue, when there is so much to gain and absolutely nothing to lose, can there be any other course but to vote for Cox in November?"

The left-handed endorsement of the all-out Conservative Cox by this rule-or-ruin faction has raised charges of "political morality" among regular Democrats. The idea of seeing their party defeated by an Unholy Alliance of far Left and far Right is naturally repellent.

The memory of 1961, when Republican Tower defeated Senator William Blakely, apparently because the latter was too conservative for a Democrat, is still vivid. But the analogy would be a lot more valid if Connally bore any resemblance whatever to the ultra-conservative Blakely. Still, the comparison of 1961 and 1962 might stand up if it is based upon the firm, honest desire of Texans to get for themselves what the whole country needs — a genuine two-party system of Liberals vs. Conservatives.

Lines Mean Little

The national party lines mean very little when men like Governor Rockefeller, Senators Javits and Case continue in the Grand Old Party, and when a hundred Democratic members of Congress continue to organize the House and Senate, yet year after year vote as often as not with the other side.

Cox has a good deal of open support from Texans who are banding together to bring about two-partyism. They are not part of the Liberal vendetta, although they will vote the same. The serious matter, with its national implications of dividing the sheep from the goats, of realigning the party system, is not going to stand out in clear relief if the Republicans make too much of trying to drag down Lyndon Johnson.

The Vice President deserves something better than that for the tough, thankless work he is doing as trouble-shooter for an Administration which has plenty of trouble involving, not just itself, but the fate of the nation. This correspondent has the hope that Johnson's influence may yet prove stronger than that of the White House insiders, and may yet induce the President to stand firm on the battlefronts and to restore the shaken confidence of American business.

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN:

Dear Abby . . .

He used to sit, snort in derision
At what he saw on television
But today he's silent, he just sits,
The television is on the fritz.

Today's episode in the Phrustrations of Phat are from the platen of that potent portable which he so often maligns because it is a typewriter while he is accustomed to that venerable threshing machine he has battered for, I believe, 13 years. And I, Mrs. G. am writing because it is Friday, the 13th, a day the so-called lord and master refuses to uncross his fingers and therefore would jam more so than the everyday norm.

THE OPENING STANZA which, by the way is mine with no help from the audience, is prompted by an incident the other evening.

"What's on television?" I asked.
"Just the usual junk, silly commercials, 25-year-old movies, impossible Westerns, repeats. Not worth the effort to snap it on," he said.

THEN, THE WAY Men often do, he made the effort. With a sudden surge of will power, he lifted himself out of the chair walked over to flip the switch. Nothing happened for a moment, then a flash, a plop and total silence.

After hurriedly closing the windows to protect the innocent, the women or children who might overhear, I listened to some choice comments on how they weren't making sets like they used to.

THE FACT that we bought the set in 1949 and hadn't spent a penny in repairs since it has been in residence with us, was overlooked as was his recently-uttered shabby opinion of the class of programs.

Once, about 10 years ago, I believe, we lost a program when the breeze, somewhat more than playful, fanned a few poles carrying the cable. Ignoring this, he said:

"That set is ALWAYS going out."

THEN, LOOKING at his calendar which is not so pretty, displaying only a big printing press, rolls of paper and a lot of men wearing funny paper hats, he suddenly said:

"Gee, you'd better get busy and start thinking up something to write."

"Friday is the 13th."

AND WHEN I ASKED: "Do I ALWAYS have to do your work for you?" he replied in what was almost a howl:

"Twice a year is ALWAYS! Just like a woman. Let a husband spill ashes on the floor once in 10 years and he is ALWAYS spilling ashes on the floor. A man never reacts like that."

Skipping his remark when, for only the second time in 13 years, the TV didn't function, I merely remarked in a lady-like and, I believe, dignified manner: "Please don't try to hide those ashes you just spilled by rubbing over them with your shoe. It only makes them harder to get out of the rug."

"Men ALWAYS do that."

DEAR ABBY: There is a lady in our neighborhood whom we have nicknamed "The Inspector" because she makes a habit of inspecting everybody's trash. She actually goes around to the back yards and pokes into trash cans to see what she can learn about the neighbors. She is not hard up and never takes anything — she is just nosy. She once told me she knew who the beer drinkers, gin drinkers and wine drinkers were. And also what kind of medicine people use and all sorts of other information that is none of her business. What should we do about her? —IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD

DEAR IN: You could tell her to keep her nose out of your trash. Or else put a lock on your garbage can and give the key to your friendly neighborhood garbage collector.

DEAR ABBY: Please settle this: My wife says that when a man reaches 35 he should no longer send his mother a gift on her birthday or on any other occasion. I say a man is never too old to remember his mother. Who is right? —MAMMA'S BOY

Remember When

July 13, 1952

Newton P. Drury head of the state division of parks and beaches, told the Coachella Valley advisory Planning Committee that funds were available for the Salton State Park.

Leo Backstrand, assemblyman from Riverside County, asked for establishment of a separate truck route through Banning until elimination of the bottleneck on the main street there. He also urged action for a four-lane highway from Beaumont to Riverside.

A sign variance and a compromise ended the controversy over a neon sign in the window of Northey DeMaurier's tourist bureau. His sign was ruled o.k. if moved back 24 inches from the window.

July 13, 1942

The Army General Hospital being constructed at the former El Mirador Hotel has been named the Torney General hospital in honor of a famed deceased surgeon general of the U.S. Army Medical Corps, it was announced by Col. A. B. Jones, in command here.

Chief of Police Lyle Sanard was notified by Army headquarters in the desert area where thousands of soldiers are in training that extra military police will be assigned to the city on weekends.

July heat began to take hold. The maximum was reported at 117 and the minimum, 75.

July 13, 1932

Local election workers were notified that because of the depression and need for cutting expenses, the board of elections had reduced the pay for election workers to $3 per day and two cents for every voter.

DEAR BOY: You're right! If a man is lucky enough at 35 to have his mother when her hair has turned to silver, his heart should turn to gold — not stone!

DEAR ABBY: About a year ago I started to dream in color. I know that I dream in color because, after I wake up, I can remember the colors I have seen in my dreams. I have told this to some people and they laugh at me. They say I am only imagining my dreams are in color and that everyone dreams in black and white. I wonder if any of your readers "think" they dream in color? Also, what does it mean if I really do? —RAY

DEAR RAY: Yes, it is possible to dream in color. But according to my authority on dreams, no one knows what it means or if it has any significance.

DEAR ABBY: Is it considered good manners to say, "I've heard a lot of things about you" when you are introduced to a person? —WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: That all depends upon what you've heard.

DEAR ABBY: There is a young married girl in our neighborhood who is very pretty. All she has to do is look at a man and he is under her spell. Well, she has come over here several times right after supper and has asked my husband to go with her to try to hunt up her husband. They are gone two and three hours at a time and I don't like it. (They never seem to find her husband.) I don't want to appear jealous but I'd like her to leave my husband alone. How? Or am I being childish? —JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: Your instincts are probably good. Why invite trouble? Next time your neighbor recruits your husband for a man hunt—join the hunt.

DEAR ABBY: I often wonder what the relationship is between newlyweds who begin their married life with twin beds. Do these partners go through life never knowing the ecstasy of dropping off to sleep encircled in loving arms? Or the comfort and peace derived from the closeness of a loved one in the night? When my wife and I are forced to accept a motel room with only twin beds, we use only one. —MARRIED TO THE SAME WOMAN FOR 25 YEARS

DEAR ABBY: Some friends gave me a bridal shower last December. I never got around to sending them thank-you notes for their gifts, but I thanked them all at the shower. Do you think it's too late to send written thank-you notes now? —BUSY

DEAR BUSY: Better late than never.

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to "Abby", care of this paper.

Local Golf Pros Win In So-Cal PGA Event

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers, not giving too much credence to the old superstition about Friday the 13th being an unlucky day, have full intentions of strengthening their National League advantage with another win over the New York Mets tonight.

Don Drysdale (15-4) is tabbed to go to the mound for Los Angeles against New York's Al Jackson (4-9) and there was plenty of confidence among the Dodgers that Don could do the trick.

Dandy Koufax, who had to be pulled out of Thursday night's game after seven innings because of an injured finger, got credit for a 3-0 Dodger triumph over the last place Mets—his 14th of the season.

In the seven innings he played, Koufax limited the New Yorkers to three hits and reliever Larry Sherry came on to hurl hitless ball for the final two frames. Despite his handicap—Sandy has been troubled with a numb index finger on his left hand for the past month—Koufax struck out six batters to increase his season total to 208, the best record in the major leagues.

Ex-Dodger Roger Craig was charged with the loss, his 12th of the season against five victories. He gave up only seven hits, but that wasn't good enough.

The Dodgers scored two runs off him in the fourth on doubles by Jim Gilliam and Willie Davis along with a single by Tommy Davis. The final run for the victors came in the ninth with a leadoff double by Ron Fairly followed by John Roseboro's triple.

It was the seventh straight road victory for Koufax, who walked three batters but never let the Mets get a man past second base. He has lost only four games this season.

CUBS FARM BALSAMO
CHICAGO (UPI)—Pitcher Tony Balsamo was optioned to San Antonio of the Texas League Thursday by the Chicago Cubs. Al Lary, recalled from Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League, takes Balsamo's place on the roster.

Local golf pros, Zell Eaton, Palm Springs Golf Course, and Gene Lesch, of the Canyon Country Club, yesterday advanced to the third round of the annual Southern California PGA Match Play Championship being played at Recreation Park in Long Beach.

Dale Anderson, pro-manager at the Riviera Hotel Gold Club and former winner of the title, was defeated in the afternoon round by Howard Rosen, a 31-year-old Bakersfield pro originally from Chicago. During the first part of the week, Anderson blizzarded the course with rounds of 63, 65 and 68, but yesterday he encountered difficulties and could score no better than a 75.

Lesch advanced to the second round by defeating Boyer, 5 and 4, and in the afternoon match eliminated R. Smith, 1 up.

In the morning round, Eaton closed out his opponent C. Dowalby, 8 and 6, and put the skids under B. Bassler by winning 2 up.

Eddie Susalla, of Indian Wells Country Club, lost out in the second round Thursday when defeated by W. Steelsmith.

National PGA champion Jerry Barber and defending champion Bud Holscher both registered a pair of victories without serious difficulty in the first two rounds Thursday.

Smiley Quick, whose name is known throughout the golfing world, bite the dust in the afternoon lap when he bowed to Monte Blodgett of Lakewood, 3 and 2. Blodgett fired a 4-under-par round at Quick.

The country's richest match play links event, a $10,000 tournament, will continue through Sunday when the final rounds will be played.

McBride To Hurl Tonight
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Angels appeared today to have stolen a leaf from the New York Yankees by matching the Whitey Ford and Luis Arroyo pitching team with their own two-some of Ted Bowsfield and Dean Chance.

Two weeks ago Bowsfield beat the Bronx Bombers at Yankee Stadium, 5-3, aided by two innings of relief from Chance. Thursday night Bowsfield again beat the Yankees 5-4 with Chance again saving the win. The victory was Bowsfield's fourth in a row.

Ken McBride, (8-3), will be after his ninth win tonight for the Angels as he faces the Yankees' Ralph Terry (11-7).

But Thursday night the Angels had to fight not only the Yankees but the poor condition of the playing field which was responsible for two New York runs.

A crowd of 48,259 saw little Felix Torres pickup the hero's role. The unheralded infielder, who was drafted by the Angels from Buffalo during the off-season, drove in four of their five runs.

In the first inning, his bases-loaded triple sent three runners home and Torres scored on Lee Thomas' single. In the third inning his sacrifice fly scored Leon Wagner from third with what proved to be the game-winning run.

All the Angel scoring was off Ford, but from the third inning on the Angels failed to get a hit. Bowsfield went 6 2-3 innings before weakening. In the seventh with two away, he walked one man and then gave up three straight singles good for two runs.

Chance came in and got Bobby Richardson to hit a fly to left that appeared to be an easy out, but Gordon Windhorn slipped in a mud puddle and the ball went for a double that scored two runs.

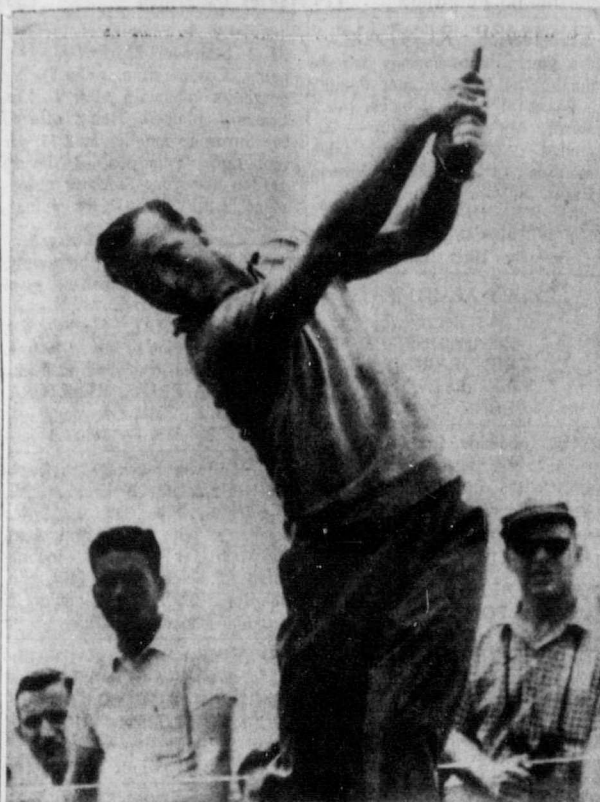

In the ninth, Bill Skowron led off with a double and Clete Boyer bunted to sacrifice him along with was safe on Thomas' throwing error.

Dale Long, who just joined the club pinch-hit into a double play and Chance got the final out off Tom Tresh.

"That Chance is a real competitor," manager Bill Rigney beamed after the game. "He's the kind of pitcher who says if he's not starting tonight he would like to be in the bullpen."

Although Rigney would not comment on the condition of the playing field, Bowsfield as the Angel's player representative commented bitterly that there was several inches of water on many spots in the outfield. The landlord Los Angeles Dodgers had renovated the field used by both clubs during the all-star break.

Weekend Fishing Reports

Fishermen out at Salton Sea are reporting the fishing as excellent and are snagging 10-15 pound carvenas, along with smaller zarga perch.

Recent reports from Santa Monica and Long Beach indicate that fishing is exceptionally good with halibut and bass running good at Santa Monica. Sportfishing in the Pacific off of Long Beach is only reported as fair for yellowtail barracuda and white sea bass.

Fishing is still fair to good up at Big Bear and many are reported as catching small fish with a few anglers landing a few big ones.

Oceanside — Four day boats, 168 anglers: 850 barracuda, 221 calico bass, 60 bonito, two yellowtail, 72 halibut, 68 white sea bass, 48 miscellaneous.

Newport Pier — One barge, 79 anglers: 790 bonito, 158 halibut, 164 miscellaneous.

San Pedro — Four boats, 103 anglers: 100 albacore, two yellowtail, 479 barracuda, 219 bass, 46 bonito, 16 halibut.

San Diego sportfishing fleet—436 passengers: 109 yellowtail, 16 calico bass, 333 bonito, 14 barracuda, 3 bluefin tuna; 128 miscellaneous and 669 albacore.

Mission Bay sportfishing fleet—144 passengers: 581 barracuda, 785 bonito, 151 bass, 11 yellowtail, 10 rockfish and 390 miscellaneous.

FIRES RECORD 67

Palmer Wins British Open

TROON, Scotland (UPI)—Incomparable Arnold Palmer shot a course-record 67 and a 69 today to win the British Open golf championships for the second straight year with a record 72-hole total of 276 strokes.

Palmer's winning margin of six strokes over Kel Nagle of Australia was the largest since 1949, when Bobby Locke of South Africa defeated Harry Bradshaw of Ireland by 12 strokes in a 36-hole playoff.

Nagle, who played in a twosome with Palmer on the two final rounds of the tournament today, shot a pair of 70's to wind up with a 282 total.

The 32-year-old Masters champion from Latrobe, Pa., sank a 14-foot birdie putt on the final hole to break the old tournament record of 278 set by Peter Thomson of Australia in 1958 and tied by Nagle the following year.

Phil Rodgers, 24-year-old rookie pro from La Jolla, Calif., shot two rounds of 72 to finish in a tie for third place with Brian Huggett of England at 289.

Sam Snead wound up the tournament with a 37-34-71 which gave him a 292 total. Don Essig had the 40-41-81 for 308, Jack Nicklaus wound up with a 35-44-79 for 305.

In the 1960 British Open at St. Andrews, Nagle equaled the tournament record with an aggregate score of 278 to beat Palmer by a stroke. The likeable Pennsylvanian started that final round four strokes back of Nagle.

Palmer, though, was in the driver's seat this time. He shot a three-under-par 69 Thursday to reach the halfway mark of the 72-hole tournament with a 140. That gave him a two-stroke lead over Nagle, who fired his second straight 71 in the second round. The two leaders were paired for today's final round.

Rodgers, a freshman pro from La Jolla, Calif., was locked in a four-way tie for third place, five strokes off the pace. The red-haired Californian posted a 70 in the second round for a 145 total.

Scoring four runs each in the second and seventh inning, they coasted to another win in adding single tallies for the 10 to 5 win.

The boomers' bats of Dick Brubaker, who went 3 for 4, and brother Larry, who hit 2 for 3 and Fred Quiroz who connected 3 for 3, spelled the difference for the winning Chi Chi Angels.

In the Keystone League, the Bejacks overpowered the B.P.O. Elks as they scored an 8-4 win. The Elks out hit the Bejacks, but were only able to push across four runs in the seven inning contest. Each ball club committed three miscues.

Following yesterdays results, the Pirates and Legionnaires are tied for the lead in the Keystone League. The B.P.O. Elks are in second place and the Bejacks are in third.

Bejacks Beat Elks By 8 to 4

The Chi Chi Angels bounced back into the win column at the Polo Grounds yesterday evening with a 10-5 victory over the P.S. Paint ball club.

Following yesterdays results, the Pirates and Legionnaires are tied for the lead in the Keystone League. The B.P.O. Elks are in second place and the Bejacks are in third.

Thoroughbred Stars In Hollywood Gold Cup

INGLEWOOD (UPI)—Abaker's dozen thoroughbred stars headed by Rex C. Ellsworth's entry of Prove It and Olden Times were set today to fight it out for the west's richest purse Saturday in the $162,100 Hollywood Gold Cup.

The Gold Cup has been called "the race of champions" because of its famous winners including such stars as Swaps, Citation, Noor, Gallant Man and many others.

Entries for the Gold cup were taken 24 hours earlier than usual with few surprises other than the naming of a triple entry of Braganza, Cadiz and Colonel Carr by trainer Frank Carr for separate interests.

Top weight of 125 pounds is shared by Prove It and T.V. Lark while Olden carries one pound less. But Windy Sands with 111 pounds was rated a real threat as the only horse who has won a stakes at the meeting over the Gold Cup distance of 1¼ miles.

The rest of the field is made up of the speedsters Harpie and Grey Eagle who are expected to fight it out on the lead; Rablero; the imported Typhoon II, Sea Orbit; and Flutterby, attempting a comeback.

T.V. Lark, who has won seven races for $100,000 or more but never in his home state of California, will be ridden by Ralph Neves, who booted home Drill Site to a surprise $88 victory in the $100,000 Hollywood Derby last Saturday.

Neves got the mount when Johnny Longden was committed to ride Flutterby because it is trained by his son, Vance Longden.

With Jockey Willie Shoemaker in the east Saturday to ride Kelso, Ellsworth named Alex Maese as the rider on both Prove It and Olden Times but Henry Moreno was expected to ride Prove It after having scored two wins with him at the meeting.

Prove It captured the Inglewood and the American handicaps after having failed to win in more than a year, most of which was spent on Ellsworth's farm.
